Contributors	Comment
Hansen Technologies Limited (HSN.ASX) 16.95	HSN contributed during the month underpinned by reaffirmed FY25 guidance at its annual general meeting. Signals that its Powercloud division could achieve positive earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortisation (EBITDA) earlier than expected has been positively received by the market, while its pipeline for work in Energy & Utilities and Communications division appears solid. Positive restructuring outcomes and market momentum should position HSN well for FY25.
Steadfast Group Limited (SDF.ASX) 5.6%	SDF rose during the month, recovering lost ground following the strata insurance business expose in September. The company's internal review of its specialist strata business is ongoing.
Detractors (cont.)	Comment
Graincorp Limited Class A (GNC.ASX) -10.8%	GNC's share price weakened during the month, driven by lower margins, despite FY25 being expected to produce the fourth-largest crop on record. GNC remains competitively positioned in the Australian grain market, and the recent fully franked dividend of 25 cents per share was a positive outcome for investors, reflecting the company's strong balance sheet position.
Lycopodium Limited (LYL.ASX) -11.9%	LYL weakened during the month following its AGM, which highlighted net profit after tax (NPAT) guidance below consensus expectations, leading to earnings downgrades. The position remains under review.
